20 YEARS OF SAVING BLACK LIVES

For 20 years, the African American Male Wellness Agency has been spotlighting a critical issue: Black men die 12 years earlier, on average, than their white counterparts

From its inception as a 5K Walk/Run in 2004, the Agency has evolved into a comprehensive health movement. Our 'Clinic to the Community' model focuses on raising awareness about health disparities and addressing the preventable causes behind the reduced life expectancy of Black men.

Since launching the Annual Black Men's Wellness Day and later, Uplift Her Women's Wellness Day in 2021, we've provided hundreds of thousands of FREE health screenings to Black men and women of color in over 20 markets nationwide.
